Inheritance Tax a Popular but Worrying Subject

Inheritance tax can have disastrous consequences for families and lead to a substantial part of a person's estate being paid to the Inland Revenue

Chartered Accountants Roffe Swayne recognised what a worry this can be and recently invited a number of their clients to a seminar on Inheritance Tax held at their offices in Godalming.

The seminar was quickly oversubscribed and because of this they are repeating the event on Monday 24 April.

It will start at 5.30pm and will be held at Roffe Swayne's offices, Ashcombe Court in Woolsack Way, Godalming. There are currently still some places left on this second seminar and anyone wishing to book a place should call Jane Steel or Bev Waters on 01483 416232.
